

Quick start Key2Publish.

For a personal introduction to Key2Publish, we have prepared two demo webshops, WooCommerce and a PrestaShop webshop, for you.

You can use our demo data, but also your own data. However, we advise you to start with our demo data.

To get started with Key2Publish, you start taking the following steps:

1. Install Key2Publish
2. Register. (Leave the field "company registration code" empty.)

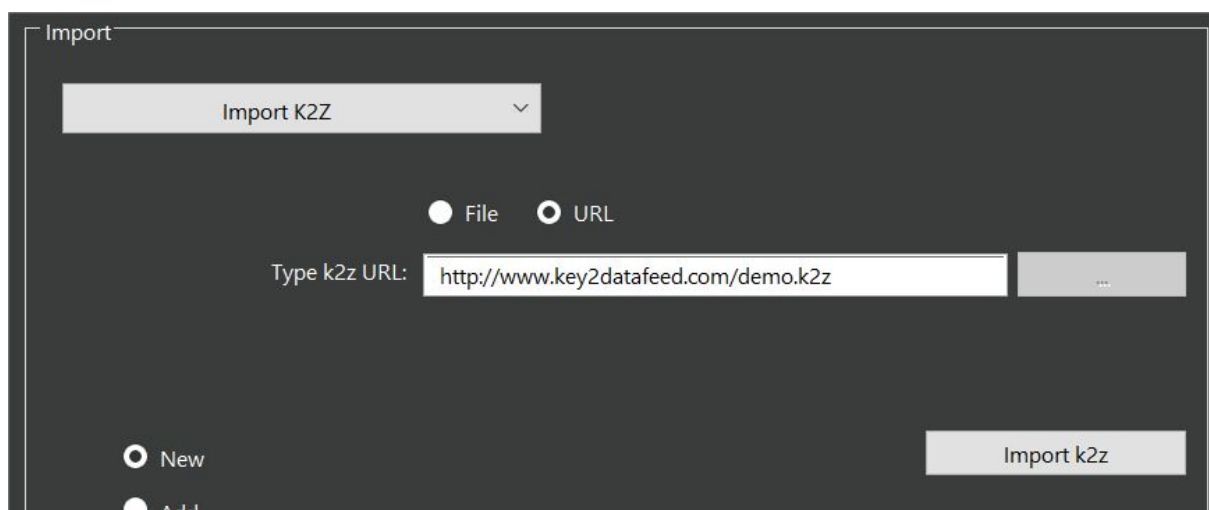

Now we are going to explore the program step by step.

Step 1: Import data set.

To prevent unnecessary manual input, Key2Publish offers various options for entering data. We now opt for the simplest. Importing a k2z file. This is a Key2Publish data file. Plug and play and therefore nothing needs to be set. These files can also be read from a website. The demo file that we are going to import can be accessed via the following URL:

<http://www.key2datafeed.com/demo.k2z>

For this url in the url setting of the Import K2Z function on the import tab and click on "Import k2z".

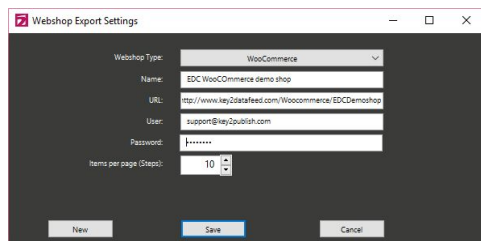

Stap 2:

Then the "view & edit" tab is opened. Here you see the imported data in a tree structure. This is also customizable, but we do not go into that now. You select two products. The demo is also set to a maximum of 25.

Stap 3:

We now go to the "Webshop" tab to export the data to a webshop. Since you have not yet indicated to which webshop (s) you want to export to(= import in), you first have to set this under the "Settings" button.

Enter the following information in the screen above:

Webshop Type: Select Prestashop

Name: Enter a(any) name

URL: <http://key2datafeed.com/PrestaShop/prestademo01/modules>

User: support@key2publish.com

Password: demo1234

Items per page: 10

If you have saved the settings via "Save", the previously selected data can be exported to the demo webshop.
